"Dabbler is becoming a philosopher. He can't care for victuals—all he asks is enough to eat."

"The man who ate his dinner with the fork of a river has been endeavoring to open a mumpskin."

"A lawyer asked a Dutchman in court what car marks a pig had that year's dispute. Well, he has no car marks except a little short tail," was the reply.

"Why may a poor, wandering about with a brood of young pigs, be considered a learned animal? Because the takes her litter a four with her."

"Jack, your wife is not so positive as she used to be." "No, she has lost that off, and turned ex-pensive."

"I presume you won't charge anything for remembering me," said a one-legged sailor to a cork leg manufacturer."

"Father, I want you to buy me a gun." "A gun, Willie! What are you going to do with a gun?" "Oh, I'm going to fight Tommy Day," says Jack, who loves him better than his dog's dog."

"An Irish lover remarked that it was a great pleasure to be alone, especially when you had your sweetheart with you."

"It matters not how much knowledge a man may have, if he fails to put it to good use, his education is no better than that of the ignorant."

"A young lady going into a barrack-room at Fort St. George, saw an officer looking at a piece of bread on the point of his sword; on which she exclaimed, 'I think, sir, you have got the staff of life on the point of death.'"

"INTERVIEW OF WOMEN.—Sir S. Romilly said, 'There is nothing by which I have through life profited more than by the just observations, the good opinions, and the delicate and gentle encouragement of amiable and sensible women.'"

"Clarke," said a young lady, the other morning, to her beau, 'what is the cause of the market horse being so stingy?' 'Well,' said the beau solemnly, 'if I was to express an opinion, I should give it as my deliberate conviction that somebody is pulling the rope.'"

"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Henrietta, 'leaving herself into a rocking chair.' 'I might go to the post office again to be looked out of countenance by all those men on the corner. I'm to prove it! What can I do, Sarah Jane, to stop those men's eyes at me as I go to the face?' 'Alas, if I do,' replied Sarah Jane, 'with a look, show your ankle!'

"A lady thus addressed her servant in the presence of a fashionable party: 'Mary, relieve that burning luminary of the superincumbent dress that bears upon it.' 'Ma'am,' said Mary, 'confused at her mistress could answer, 'Oh, yes, the lady, 'from that luminous body the superincumbent weight of consumed carbon.' 'Ma'am!' repeated Mary. In haste replied the lady, 'Snuff the candle you bessey, you.'"

"Mrs. Partington says, 'I haven't any desire to live longer than the breath remains in my body, if it isn't more than eighty years. I wouldn't wish to be a centurian; and the idea of surviving one's factories always gives me a disagreeable censoriousness. But whatever it is, he, will be, and there is no knowing a thing will take place till it expires.'"

"What are you writing there my boy?" asked a food parent the other day of his hopeful son, a slave of ten years.

"My competition, this?"

"What is the subject?"

"International law," replied the youthful Grofius. 'But really I should be unable to concentrate my ideas and give them relation, if I am constantly interrupted in this manner by irrelevant inquiries.'"

"A young fellow riding down a steep hill, and fearing that at the foot it was boggy, called out to a clown who was dictating, and asked him if it was hard at the bottom. 'Any road the countryman, it is hard enough, I'll warrant you.' But in half a dozen steps the horse sunk up to the saddle girth, which made the young gallant curse and swear. 'Why, you rascal,' said he to the clown, 'didn't you tell me it was hard at the bottom?' 'Ay,' replied the clown, 'but you are not half way to the bottom yet.'"

"Medical.—'Doctor,' said an old lady the other day to her family physician, 'kin you tell me how some folks is born dumb?' 'Why, hem! why, certainly, madam,' replied the doctor; 'it is owing to the fact that they came into the world without the power of speech.' 'Ay, me!' remarked the old lady, 'now just see what it is to have a physical education. I've asked my old man nor nor a hundred times that are some thing, and all I could ever get out of him was, 'kiss they is.' Well, I'm glad I asked you, for I never should have died satisfied without knowing it.'"

"An Illustration of Law."

A good story was told in this city this morning which serves to illustrate that possession is nine points of law. A. is a rather sharp lawyer, and resides next door to B. The houses A. and B. occupy are similar in appearance, and as they enjoy, are easily mistaken by a comparative stranger. B. being out of coal, walks to the coal market, purchases a load for $3 30, and sends it home. The man of whom he purchased mistakes the residence of A. for that of B. and dumps the coal in A.'s yard. The lawyer's man sees the coal in the yard, and gets what-barrow (and shove) and puts it into the cellar. B. is in a peck of trouble that his coal does not come, and goes out to find the man of whom he bought it.

"See here, my country friend, I bought a load of coal of you, and you have not delivered it," says B., as soon as he had found the culprit.

"You bought the coal and paid for it, and I delivered it," said the coal dealer.

Here the thought struck B. that he saw coal in his neighbor's (the lawyer's) yard, and immediately divided the mystery. He starts for the lawyer's office, and finding him in, thus accosted him:

"Mr. A., suppose you would buy a load of coal and the man should put it in the wrong yard, what would you require of the man who appropriated the coal?"

"Well, sir," said the lawyer, "I should require the man to return the coal or pay the amount I paid for the coal."

"Very well," said Mr. B., "just give me $3 30, and you can return the coal of coal in your cellar. The lawyer gently drew $30s from his pocket and handed it to B.

"What does this mean, Mr. A., you owe me $3 30 all," said the astonished B.

"Not at all," said the lawyer, "I charge three dollars for my advice."—Poria Union.

NEWMARKET WOOLLEN FACTORY

THE Subscriber having taken the above establishment, lately occupied and operated by W. A. Clark, has repaired and refitted it in the most complete and perfect order, and is now prepared to manufacture every style and grade of goods usually made in such an establishment.

Wool will be manufactured for customers upon shares, or by the yard, as they may prefer, and particular attention will be given to this branch of the business, with the determination to satisfy and please the public, and with skillful and experienced workmen added to 20 years experience himself, he flatters himself that he will be able to give entire satisfaction to all who may favour him with their patronage.

CUSTOM CARDING And Cloth Dressing.

The Custom Carding and Cloth Dressing department will receive his constant and careful attention, with the determination that no pains or expense shall be wanting to put the wool put into his establishment as popular a favorite with the public as it ever was in the best days. All the machinery in this department has been most thoroughly and completely refitted with new Cards, and repaired to the most perfect order, and is now in full and complete operation.

Customers bringing their wool from a long distance to this establishment, may rely upon having it carried to take back with them.

CASH FOR WOOL.

The Subscriber will pay the highest market price in Cash, for all the good clean Wool that may be offered, and intending to make the buying of Wool for Cloth, a permanent business, in addition to the wool for the establishment, he hopes by the payment of liberal prices, to secure the Newmarket one of the best cash wool markets in Canada.

NELSON GORMAN, Newmarket, May 18, 1859. (1-14)

DR. S. N. PECK, SURGEON DENTIST.

RETURNING thanks for the liberal patronage hitherto extended to him during the past eight years, he respectfully intimates he will be at the following places, as usual:

DR. AMOS & SON.

(Corner of Main and Quay Sts. Buffalo, N. Y.)

ARE the only Physicians in the State who are members of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, may be consulted from 8 o'clock in the morning, until 9 at night, in every state and symptom of Disease.

This treaty they adopt is the result of upwards of thirty years' extensive and successful practice in London.

A Most Scientific Invention.

An instrument for the cure of Gonitil Debility, or Morbidity of the Seminal Emission, more properly known as Spermatorrhoea, &c., can be permanently cured in from fifteen days to two months by the use of this instrument, when used conjointly with medicines.

Young Men, take Particular Notice.

DR. AMOS & SON take pleasure in announcing that they have invented a most important instrument for the cure of the above diseases. It has been subjected to a test by the most eminent physicians in London, Paris, Philadelphia, and New York; it has been declared the only Seminal Weakness, or any disease of the genital organs, caused by the secret habits of youth.

DR. AMOS & SON, in order to satisfy the most skeptical as to the merits of this instrument, pledge themselves that if any instance where it may prove unsatisfactory after a return of the money will be refunded by returning the instrument in good order.

Persons wishing the above useful instrument will observe that the price, with the accompanying directions securely packed and sent by express, is ten dollars.

NEW REMEDIES AND QUICK CURES.

For the Venereal Diseases and all Private Complaints—glands, strictures, seminal weakness, pains in the loins, affection of the Kidneys, discharges of head and throat, nose, and skin, and all those dreadful affections arising from a secret habit of youth, which produces constitutional debility, renders marriage impossible, and in the end destroy both body and mind.

The treatment they adopt is the result of upwards of thirty years' extensive and successful practice in Europe and America.

COUNTRY INVALIDS.

Persons in any part of the world may be successfully treated by forwarding a correct detail of their case, with a remittance for medicine, &c.

CURLICULIAN & HAIR INVIGORATOR

THE only Preparation ever invented that will Effectually Restore, and promote the Growth of the Hair. The discovery was accidentally made by using it on his own head, to cure a nervous pain, to which he had been subject for years, and in consequence of which he lost most of his hair. He not only found himself cured of the painful disease, but his agreeable surprise, his hair began to grow again, being now thick, glossy, and soft, and about two feet long, hanging in beautiful curls about his shoulders. A living testimony of the newly discovered remedy. This is also a certain remedy for Pimples and Blotches on the Face.

He would invite the attention of the Public to the following Certificates:—

From Mr. Joseph B. Wilson, 4th Con. of Whitechurch, June 8, 1859.

Friend Dr. Gormon.—Having tried this Curliculan & Hair Invigorator, I do believe it to be very beneficial to the hair and scalp, as I have used it on the scalp, and after the use of it, my hair began to grow again, and I am now free from the disease which I had been subject to for years.
